

Prick the Witch -

Make a dummy Witch and using a felt tip marker draw a jack o lantern in one spot.

Now cover the dummy with crepe paper.

When people come in, have them write their name on a slip of paper and stick a straight pin through the paper. Ask them to prick the witch.

When everybody is done, remove the crepe paper off the dummy and see which person's pin is closest to the jack o lantern drawing and that person is the winner of the game.

Hide the Bone -

Get a plastic bone available from Johnny Brocks etc. Hide it in the bar. Have the bone master leave clues written on pieces of paper around the place as to where the Bone is hidden ie "behind the bar", "wrapped in cloth"

"In Kim's pocket" could be where the bone is hidden (if the Bone is small enough) and would be the correct guess

Whoever figures it out is the winner

Orange Bag Bat Bash

Get some old nylon stockings put an orange in the toe of the stocking tie the top of the stocking to a belt or rope or whatever that goes around the waist on the player so that the stocking hangs down between their legs.

Players then swing the stocking forward and back using only their hip motion.
No Hands.

The object is to use the orange in the stocking to hit another orange with a Bat drawn on it down a course to either land in a certain area like in Curling or if there are more than one player whoever crosses a finish line first.
